DETAILED ACTION

1. Lack of Unity

A. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-7, drawn to use of calcitonin in the manufacture of a medicament.

Group II, claims 8-11, drawn to the use of parathyroid hormone in the manufacture of a medicament.

Group III, claims 12-30 and 45-49, drawn to a method of treating a condition in a subject and a kit for determining treatment efficacy.

Group IV, claims 31-32, drawn to a method of choosing subjects for inclusion in a clinical trial.

Group V, claims 33-38, drawn to a method of determining whether a compound has therapeutic efficacy similar to calcitonin.

Group VI, claims 39-44, drawn to a method of determining whether a compound has therapeutic efficacy similar to parathyroid hormone.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature of Group I is the use of calcitonin in the manufacture of a medicament, which is anticipated by Lattanzi et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,441,933), who teach pharmaceutical compositions comprising calcitonin. Since the only active ingredient in instant claim 1 is calcitonin, its properties are inherent. Therefore, the pharmaceutical composition of Lattanzi would meet the limitation of instant claim 1. Therefore, Group I lacks novelty or inventive step and does not make a contribution over the prior art.

Art Unit: 1647

The special technical feature of Group I is the use of calcitonin in the manufacture of a medicament

The special technical feature of Group II is the use of parathyroid hormone in the manufacture of a medicament.

The special technical feature of Group III is a method of treating a condition.

The special technical feature of Group IV is a method of choosing subjects.

The special technical feature of Group V is a method of determining the efficacy of a compound compared to calcitonin.

The special technical feature of Group VI is a method of determining the efficacy of a compound compared to parathyroid hormone.

Accordingly, Groups I-VI are not so linked by the same of corresponding special technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept.

Furthermore, in order to be fully responsive, if Group III is elected, Applicants must elect either calcitonin, or parathyroid hormone to which the claims of that Group will be limited.

Additionally, if Group III is elected, Applicants must elect a single gene from either claim 23-26, 29, or 30 to be examined.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Art Unit: 1647

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
